CAMPAIN FOR NEW CITY HALL IS CONSIDERED

Result of Rent Increase Effective Jan. 1

RENTAL NOW $1,800
Will Be Raised to $4,500 Yearly
When New Court Begins Functioning

It is probable that a movement to construct a new city hall in Marion will be launched during the coming year.

The city hall project, which has been in a dormant state for a number of years, is being revived as a result of the increase in the rental of the present hall.

GIRL, 10, RESCUES SISTER FROM FIRE

Columbus, Dec. 10.—Gripping her way upstairs through the smoke, 10-year-old Priscilla Levison rescued her sister, Ruth, 7, when fire broke out at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac A. Levison here about midnight.

When Mr. and Mrs. Levison returned home from a call on some friends they found their three children, Priscilla, Ruth and Sylvia, 6, on the front porch in their night clothes while firemen and neighbors put out the blaze.

Lets Go

Franklin, Ind., Dec. 10.—The death list from the explosion in Franklin mine No. 2 today stood at 25, four new victims having been reported this morning.

Chaired and blackened, the bodies of S. J. Holt and William C. Hatfield were brought to the surface this morning by a rescue crew that had been searching the passages of the mine since 7:30 this morning, under the handicap of withering heat from a blaze that broke out in the south passage.

Two Injured Die
Orville Stiller and Leiford King, two of the injured in the hospital at Franklin, Ind., died early today.

Another rescue crew to replace the one which brought Holt and Hatfield to the surface immediately went back into the mine to search for Claude Wright, Emory West and Walter Thurman, who still are missing.

With the finding of the last two victims, the slight hope that had been held out for the missing went glimmering.
Mine rescue officials told International News Service they have little hope of finding the three alive.

COUNCIL CUTS DOWN LIST OF COURT CLERKS

SALARIES HELD DOWN
City Economy Program Clashes with Plans for Organization of Court

The economy program which City Council has placed in effect and expects to continue during the next few years has crashed head-on into plans recently made by William B. Martin, Marshall, to organize the court.

Several weeks ago Mr. Martin announced a list of six proposed court clerks and Council it was decided to reduce the list to three. Decisions to that effect were made at a meeting of Council members when it was agreed to give the court a chief clerk,
a deputy clerk, and a bookkeeper.

The appointments named in Mr. Martin's original plan were Joseph M.
Jensen, chief clerk, John H. Powell, deputy clerk, D. R. Bell and Joseph H.
Kare, bookkeeper. Mrs. Martin, who is married to the mayor, also was named as a deputy clerk, bookkeeper, typist and file clerk.

No statement has been made by the judge-elect regarding what his plans will be as a result of Council's decision.
An announcement is expected within a few days giving the names of the appointees who will be retained.

Council also decided upon appointment of an assistant City Solicitor who will act as Municipal Counsel. This office will be appointed by George T. Gorman, who will succeed City Solicitor E. H. Benson on Jan. 8. He will receive an annual salary of $12,500.

Several appointments are to be on the list of the city and he is expected to announce the appointments within a few days.

DAWES GETS NOBEL PRIZE FOR 1925

Stockholm, Dec. 10.—The Nobel peace prizes for the year 1925 have been awarded to Charles G.
Dawes, vice president of the United States, and Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign minister for Great Britain. It was announced today.

The awards for 1926 were made by the Gustaf Strömmerholm, foreign minister for Germany, and Mr. Aristide Briand, foreign minister for France.

SCHEDULE CUT TO $28.70 BY BUDGET BOARD

Rates for Other Districts Held Up Until State Approves Reappraisal

Reduction of the tax rate in Marion City District was announced today by County Auditor H. C. Dickey.

The rate at which property owners within the corporation limits will pay their 1926 taxes will be $28.70 per thousand valuation. This is a reduction of 8.18 per cent. The rate in 1925 was $31.28 per thousand.

Rates for all other taxing districts in Marion County will not be announced for some time. The Marion City District rate was given approval by the State Tax Commission so that collection of taxes could start in the city. The other districts must wait until the State Tax Commission approves the reappraisal of property before the tax rate can be set. The fact that there was no reappraisal within the city made it possible to get the city rate approved ahead of the other taxing districts. The force in the auditor's office will immediately begin work on the duplicate and expects to begin collection of taxes near the first of the year.

Walled Months
The county auditor has been waiting for several months for word from the state Tax Commission as to when that body would get around to approving the Marion County reappraisal, so that the tax rate could be figured. The Tax Commission finally came through with the approval of the city duplicate, so that this part of the work could be started by the auditor. According to word from Columbus yesterday there are still 20 counties in the state in which the State Tax Commission has not yet completed its inspection of the reappraisal. Marion County is among these, and must take its turn with the rest. The approval of the city tax rate will mean that collection of city taxes will start just as soon as the auditor can get the correct figures out.

Late Collection
It will be impossible to start collection of taxes of the city on scheduled time, according to H. C. Dickey, deputy county auditor. Tax collection is supposed to start on Dec. 29, but with

REED COMMITTEE TO REOPEN INQUIRIES

Sensation Furnished Political Circles by Decision; Ohio Not Mentioned

Washington, Dec. 10.—The political pot on Capitol Hill boiled over today when the Reed committee decided to reopen the inquiries into the senatorial primaries in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Oregon and Arizona. This action was taken in order to hear witnesses missed at the earlier sessions of the committee. The hearings will be confined to the senatorial primaries in each of these states.

The committee did not reach a decision on the requests for investigations of the primaries in Massachusetts and Ohio, or the elections in Maine and Pennsylvania. It will meet again Monday.

Two Dead, Several Hurt
in Auto-Trolley Crash

Woman Drives into Car When She Tries To Enter
Driveway

Two people were killed and several injured here early today when a Lake Shore Interurban car collided with an automobile. The dead were Mrs. James Graham, 26, Toledo, Ohio, and a young girl, 12, of Toledo.
Mrs. Graham was driving the automobile. When she attempted to enter a driveway, she ran into the car of the Interurban, which was stopped at a stop sign. The car was driven by Howard Reed, 22, of Toledo, who was injured and several passengers cut by glass and badly shaken.

ABANDON THEORY
Georgia Official Refutes Alleged Theory That John Brown
Was Not Killed

Alton, Ill., Dec. 10.—Authorities here today abandoned the theory that the Illinois youth known as John Brown was not killed in the raid on the Dan Ryan Hotel in Chicago, which was the scene of the murder of the Chicago police chief, Frank J. Murphy. The theory was based on the fact that a note was found in the room of the youth, which was signed "John Brown" and which was addressed to "John Brown".

CHAMBER FAVORS NINE OF 11 TAX LAW CHANGES

Local Organization Votes Against Two Measures in Nationwide Referendum

The Marion Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as being in favor of nine and against two of the 11 tax and corporation law changes listed in a nationwide referendum vote recently taken by the National Chamber of Commerce. Reports of ballots cast by Chambers of Commerce throughout the country have been filed with national headquarters in Washington and are being canvassed and tallied there today. It is expected that the result will be announced within a few days.

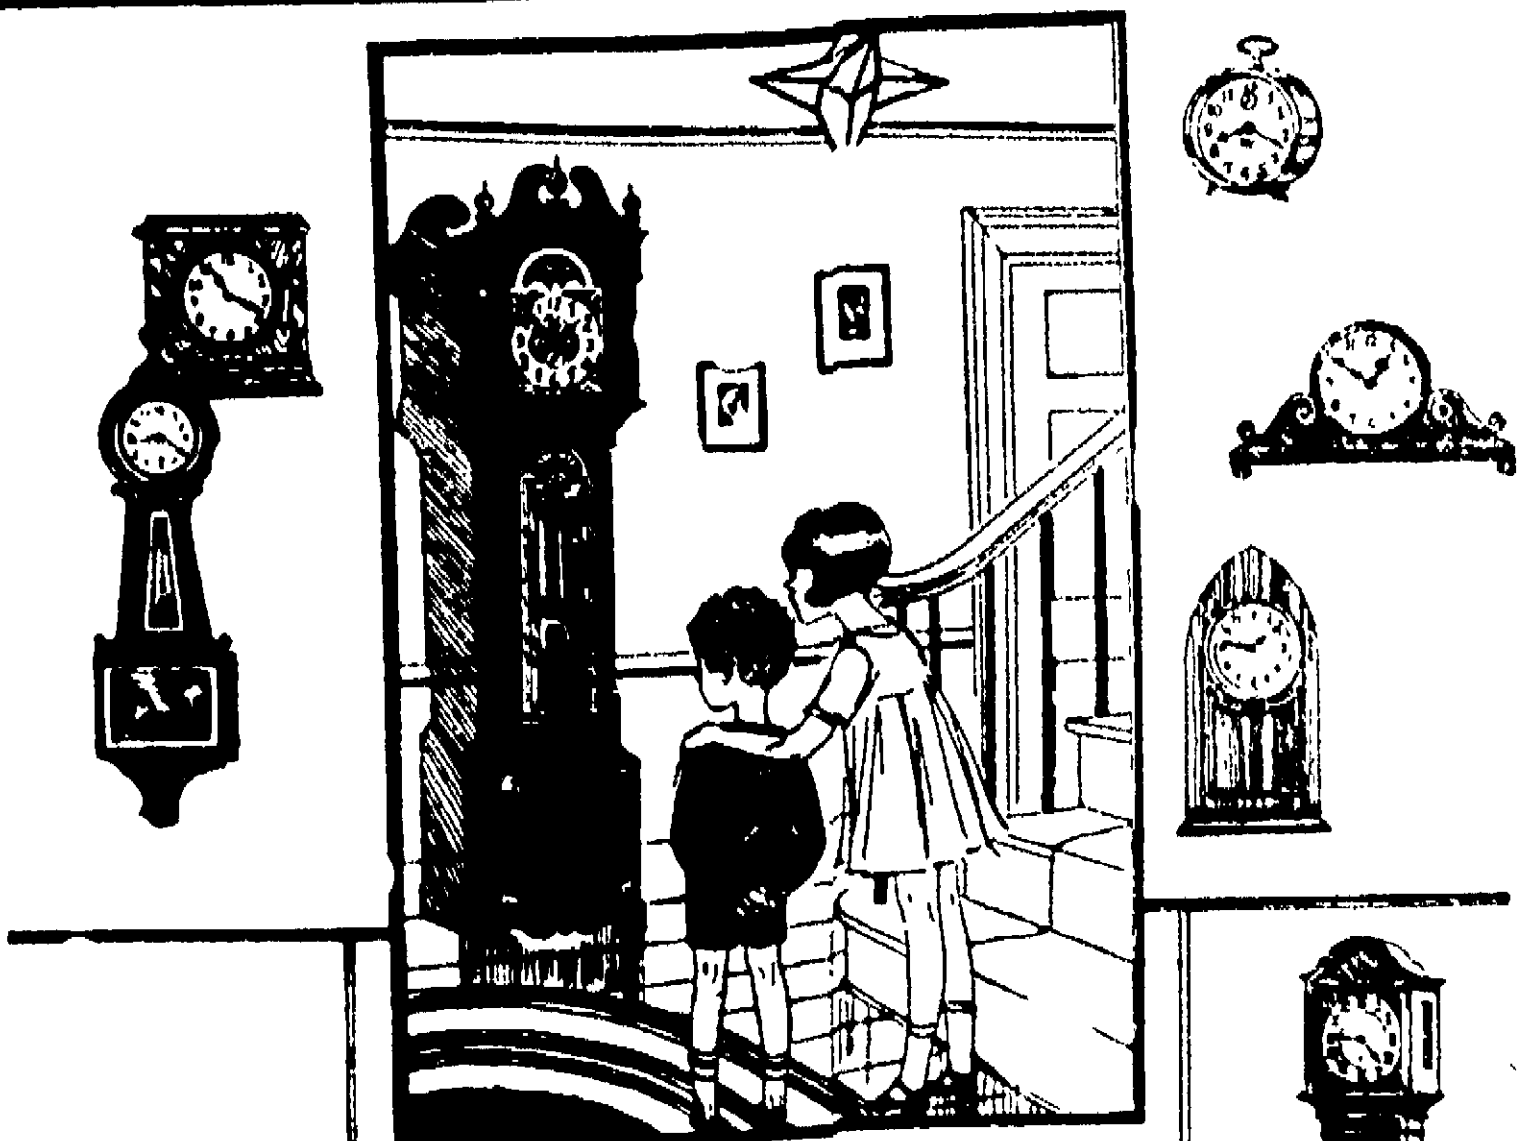

The local Chamber is entitled to cast two votes on the proposals on the basis of its membership. The eleven proposals were investigated by a committee composed of J. W. Jacoby, T. D. Guthrie and Charles E. Merkle, and their report was adopted by the local Board of Directors and forwarded to national headquarters.

Cleopatra Buried in Paris? Queen's Mummy Story Told

Paris, Dec. 10.—Is Cleopatra buried in Paris? Several Parisian archaeologists and Egyptologists are inclined to believe so and would be much disappointed if the mummy of the famous Nile Queen should be found elsewhere. Every ten or fifteen years the report spreads that one of three legendary mummies buried in the little garden of the National Library in 1871, during the Commune, is that of Cleopatra.

Three persons assisted at the burial services of the three mummies, only one of whom, M. Mortreuil, retired general secretary of the library is now alive.

"There were many Egyptian authorities in the library when I began to work there in 1880, at the age of nineteen," says M. Mortreuil. "Among them were three mummies, without bindings, one of which passed for that of Cleopatra."

"Why Cleopatra? I don't know. Perhaps only because the mummy was very beautiful. At any rate we were all very much in love with our Cleopatra."

"I heard it reported that Napoleon had brought the three mummies—the other two were males—from Egypt. It was even reported that Napoleon spent a whole night alone with the mummy in his tent at the foot of the pyramids. Perhaps it was he who baptized her Cleopatra, or perhaps he identified the mummy definitely as that of Cleopatra. We do not know when, why or by whom the bindings were taken from the mummies."

"Then came the war and the siege of Paris. To protect the Egyptian collection from German shells we transported it to the cellar, the mummies included. The humidity decomposed them and when the Commune took possession of the library the mummies were given for fuel such as other that it was decided to bury them."

"We did it secretly, one spring night, in a lantern light. The others swapped yarns and poked fun at Cleopatra, but I shed a few real tears at the thought of never seeing her again."

M. Boreux, conservator of the Louvre Museum, was inclined to scoff at the idea that one of the buried mummies was that of Cleopatra.

"Nevertheless as long as the real mummy is not discovered and identified all hypotheses are permissible," he said. "Let us believe the story, since there is no scientific reason for not believing it," said M. Boreux. "And I would regret very much if the authentic mummy of Cleopatra were found in Alexandria. The idea that Cleopatra may be buried in our garden lends a certain enchantment to the library."

-o- The New Book -o-

BY FRANCES JENNINGS

KATHLEEN MONALTY, the fascinating, winsome heroine of Cosmo Hamilton's new novel, "Confession," not only believed that confession is "good for the soul" but "comforting to the mind." Swathed in wealth and the sentiment of sophistication which belongs to society, exclusively, and New York society, particularly, in the attractive body of Kathleen beat a warm, true, unpretentious, every-day-girl heart.

"Confession," which promises to be one of the most popular light novels of the year, is published by Doubleday, Page & Co.

The book is cleverly written, the story being told through a series of letters written by Kathleen and addressed but never sent to "Jack" or John Verne, Chicago, November, eleventh earl of Hishorough, D. S. O., M. C., her English fiance. They are written in a confidential, sincere, natural style, making the reader almost feel an intruder upon the life and thoughts of Kathleen, so intimately and vividly are they told.

Kathleen is at once all that novices make us feel the young society lady should be... the "pet" of the social world, the "apple of her father's eye" and a charming, very much alive young woman whose true nature is hidden beneath an icy coating of sophistication. Kathleen conceals "her own true self" from her fiancé, a man of unimpeachable society, to have her soul in "confession" in the letters in which she tells of her successes, disappointments, and... most amusing of all... her observations on life, America, the England where her fiance later escorts her in the role of wife; England as compared with America; and her own serious, plodding, self-conscious, conventional English husband, who never ceases to be a puzzle to her except on the rare occasions when he "comes out of his shell," breaks down the barriers of tradition and becomes the glowing, sympathetic lover she knows him truly to be.

Hamilton's splendid character portrayal of Kathleen and her husband, through the series of letters is nothing short of remarkable. He never once allows one to forget that they are letters, Kathleen's letters, and yet the conversation, the action, which all book-lovers enjoy, is ever present in Kathleen's review of events as they happened... a review of them for her satisfaction and the reader's enjoyment.

The story deals with Kathleen's struggle to understand her sober, unexpressive English husband, who, since he holds an important position with the English government, is often absent, leaving her to the despair, loneliness, doubt and finally disloyalty a girl formerly so pampered and spoiled has every right to feel. Throughout the entire story however, she retains her faith in her "erring" but loving and understanding husband, tragically writing in the letters she knows, she can never send him, of her fears, her persistent love, and occasional triumphs.

The ending is perhaps the book's supreme triumph... it's a happy and appropriate ending, and, although, conclusive in itself, leaves enough doubt of the future in the reader's mind to cause an irrepressible sigh as those fatal words "THE END" are reached.

In connection with the Christmas season City Library authorities have compiled a list of books which would make appropriate Christmas gifts for children. All of the books are available at the library where they may be reviewed by the cautious shopper before purchasing.

The following list, which is the third of a series, are suggested as gifts for children between the ages of 8 and twelve. "Adventures of Aloysius and the Tale of Troy" by Patricia Colum, a tale retold from the Iliad and Odyssey, in excellent narrative style; "Alice's Adventure in Wonderland, and Through the Looking Glass" by Lewis Carroll; "Arabian Nights" edited by Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora A. Smith; "The Arkansas House" by Albert Bigelow Paine; "At the Back of the North Wind" by George MacDonald, a modern fairy tale; "The Children's Book of Birds" by Olive Thorne Miller; "Christmas in Legend and Story" by Elva S. Smith and Alice L. Hazeltine; "Fairy Tales" by Hans Christian Andersen; "Hans Brinker" by Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge; "Holly" by Johannes Spier; "The Heroes" by Charles Kingsley; "Home Book of Verse for Young Folks" by R. B. Stevenson; "Jungle Book" by Rudyard Kipling; "Just So Stories" by Rudyard Kipling; "The Little Duke" by Charlotte M. Yonge; "Little Women" by Louisa M. Alcott; "Master Skylark" by John Bennett; "Merry Adventures of Robin Hood" by Howard Pyle; "Merriam's" by Beulah M. Dix; "The Peterkin Papers" by Loretta P. Hale; "Pilgrim's Progress" by John Bunyan; "Robinson Crusoe" by Daniel Defoe; "The Snowcoach" by E. V. Luten; "Shasta of the Wolves" by John Baker; "Story of Dr. Hollieth" by Hugh Lofting; "Story of Rolf and the Vikings" by Allen French; "The Swiss Family Robinson" by J. D. Wyss; "Tales from Silver Land" by Charles J. Finger, an unusual collection of South American fairy tales; "Treasure Island" by Robert Louis Stevenson; "Treasury of Plays for Children" by Montrose J. Moser; "Uncle Remus: His Songs and His Sayings" by Joel Chandler Harris; "The Water Babies" by Charles Kingsley; "What Happened to Ingel-Johanne" by Dickon Zwilgmeyer; and "Wonder Book and Tanglewood Tales" by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

A list of books for older boys and girls will appear in this column next week.

EDITH WHARTON, author of "The Age of Innocence" and other splendid books, was recently elected to the National Institute of Arts and Letters. She first won fame and honor when the of "Innocence" also gained her the cross of the Legion of Honor. "The Age of Innocence" also awarded her the Pulitzer prize for the year 1921. She was promoted to the rank of Officer of the Legion of Honor by the French government in 1924 and won the gold medal of the National Institute of Arts and Letters in 1925, the first woman to whom the award has been made.

BOOKS which would gladden the Christmas of any adult are "Dark Dawn" by Martha Benson, "Farmer John" by Hugh Walpole, "Early Autumn" by Louis Bromfield, "Chevrons" by Leonard Nason, "Introduction to Sally" by Elizabeth and "Galahad" by John Erskine, the six "best sellers" last week.

Other splendid books suggested as Christmas gifts are "The Flame of Courage" by George Gibbs, "Preface to a Life" by Zola Gore, "Here and Beyond" by Edith Wharton, "The Big Mogul" by Joseph C. Lincoln, "After Noon" by Susan Eitz, "Uprooted" by Brand Whitlock, and "Cordelia Chantrell" by Meade Minnigerode.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the recent publication by the Boni & Liveright Co. of "The Image and the Man," a biography upon which W. L. Woodward, author of "Bank," "Brand," "Circuses," and "Lottery," has been working for six years.

Mr. Woodward has attempted in this book to typify a Washington, free of the glamorous fictions which have been given him by romantic historians. It is as much the story of the times in which Washington lived as of the life of the man himself. It is found both interesting and instructing reading.

Daily Proverb: "Let nothing offensive to eye or ear be seen or heard under a roof where a boy resides."

A Pennsylvanian who ate sauerkraut daily lived to be 101 years old. What price living?

Requests by Ohio universities for $11,000,000 for improvements again brings up the question: "Does education pay?"

"The Descendants of the Bootleggers of Dry America" would hardly be sufficiently exclusive as an organization to exert great appeal.

According to Lita's way of seeing it, the East Charlie can decently do it to put $1,000,000 in her Christmas stocking.

To put the arrest of Mr. Ormiston another way, radio communication with the Alamo Temple McPherson case has been retarded.

We are inclined to agree with Jack Dempsey that he was poisoned, but, as we see the thing, it was by the three years he was out of training.

No doubt another deep grievance on the part of some of the bootleggers, rum-runners and bandits against the law is that it doesn't protect their priority rights.

A Boston paper says the president is not a lonesome man. Sure not. His better half knows the sign language.

Anyway, it was mighty considerate of those detectives to hold off the arrest of Ormiston until the Hall-Mills trial was out of the way.

The reason worthless old laws are not repealed as new ones are passed probably is because the constituents at whose behest the old ones were enacted are dead and their votes can not legally be counted.

We may have missed one or two, but so far as we are able to glean there is not a city in the land which hasn't broken its 1925 record for automobile casualties.

Our memory goes back to a time when the newspapers of the land were chiding women for wearing skirts which dragged on the ground and accumulated unnumbered legions of microbes.

A writer says that taxation is not a political problem. And yet there will be people, possibly, who will keep right on believing that old Rip Van Winkle was some pumpkins as an endurance sleeper!

A number of Ohio universities are asking for 100 per cent. increases in appropriations, a news story tells us. Naturally! The day when coaches and trainers can be had for a song is past.

It doesn't take a seventh son of a seventh son to predict that Ontario will soon have strong appeal alike to those who go in for winter sports and those who enjoy summer outings.

It is hardly probable that even Pat McDer-mott will have the nerve to attempt an explanation of his snooping about the Mellett home by holding out that he wanted to sell the Canton editor a "case."

According to an efficiency expert, modern machines and methods are going to throw 100,000 stenographers—not almost, about or over, but an even 100,000—out of their jobs.

That's what we like about the efficiency experts; they always give the exact figures and never leave any room for question or doubt.

A Splendid Appointment.

The naming of George T. Geran to fill the coming vacancy in the city solicitorship would be a tribute to him under ordinary conditions. It is a far greater one coming as it does with the announced assurance of Mayor Hazen that no other attorney was considered for the place; that the appointment was made as the result of practically his, the mayor's, immediate choice because of Mr. Geran's four years' experience as city solicitor during former administrations and his thorough familiarity with city management and municipal law. Not only this, but Mayor Hazen, in tendering the unsolicited appointment, went further and stated that it was the unanimous wish of all connected with the present city administration that Mr. Geran take charge of the city's legal department for the unexpired term of the present solicitor, whose resignation is to become effective January 5, which will run till January 1, 1928.

Under circumstances such as these, no matter what his feeling, if any, regarding the holding of a city office may have been, Mr. Geran could hardly do other than accept the appointment.

That the appointment is a most popular one throughout the city goes without the saying. Mr. Geran's terms in the office demonstrated his ability and fitness for the place, and under him the citizens of Marion may anticipate the same calm, even course in the handling of the city's legal affairs which marked his incumbency of the office during the two terms served by him.

Mayor Hazen's appointment is a splendid one.

$5,000,000 Deficit Faced by State.

When it was ascertained during the recent gubernatorial campaign that the comfortable balance inherited by Governor Donahay when he took office for his first term as the state's executive had been dissipated, that the state's expenditures had exceeded its income and that it was bankrupt there was an inclination in some quarters to belittle the charge and hold it to be political humbug.

But the election is a thing of the past, and the assertion is as good as renewed. At least, it is announced from Columbus that figures supporting the claim that the state government faces a deficit of $5,000,000 on July 1 of next year have been laid before Governor Donahay.

The statement supplied the governor—the joint effort of State Finance Director Wilbur E. Baker and State Superintendent of Budget, Meritt Brownman—holds that the state's annual revenues must be increased at least $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 if the state's governmental policies of the past two years are to be continued. It is further urged that the governor impress upon the general assembly the absolute necessity for legislation at the earliest possible date to make provision for the operating expenses of the state for the next eight months.

During the campaign this paper and many others called attention to the condition of the state's finances as a result of administrative extravagance and voiced the opinion that such a situation demanded a change in the state executive office if the best interests of the people of Ohio were to be conserved. The people of Ohio, however, seemed to be content with matters as they were. At least, a majority of those who voted saw fit to signify their confidence in the administration and Governor Donahay was voted to succeed him self in office for a third term.

We have no complaint to make with the choice of the majority of those who voted. We believe in majority rule even though the unfortunate situation exists that elections are frequently decided by a majority of a minority of the people. Our purpose in calling the matter to the attention of our readers at this time is that the record may be kept straight; that it may be known that the charges made concerning the state's financial condition were not political humbug, but founded on what is now admitted to have been facts.

As a comeback, the former knave, who has been described by the one-time crown prince of Germany as a "nutty old onion" might apologize to the world for partial responsibility for the production of a carrot.

Maybe those Chicagoans who, according to the health authorities up there, have been passing their bubbles to death, have been going on the philosophy that death by kissing in infancy is to be preferred to being shot up by gangsters after maturity.

A New York City husband and wife are too bound aboard their steam yacht in the Baritan river. Nobody ever heard of a hard-working spender of joy and sunshine in paragraphs and his wife being foolish enough to get caught in such a situation as that.

The Baltimore Sun tells us that an associate college professor now makes as much as a bricklayer, which is the first intimation we have had that there has been a wage cut in the building trades.

From day to day we see in the papers enough on the subject almost to justify the suspicion that there's going to be a swimming match next summer from the California main land to Catalina Island.

It may be just as well that Governor Brandon didn't show up to answer to that liquor charge. Had he done so, just as likely as not he would have answered from force of habit, "Alabama casts twenty-four votes for Underwood."

Bits of Cheer.

The Congressional Zoo.

Congress again includes, along with the elephant and donkey, the lame duck as an emblem of American statesmanship.—Washington Star.

She's Lost Her Appeal.

Named by the Same Poor Guessers.

Considerable interest is lost in the selection of an All-American football team when one considers that the same ones making the selections are the ones who picked Dempsey to win.—Canton News.

An Economy Measure.

Indiana is talking of planting trees along the highways. This must be a device of the wiring companies who are tired of furnishing all the poles for the car drivers to knock over.—Minneapolis Journal.

A Lot of Static Down There.

Secretary Hoover says that government control of the radio is an absolute necessity and we have our moments of depression when we wouldn't give a finker's dam as our pastor says, if they prohibited it entirely.—Ohio State Journal.

Not All of 'Em Find Their Calling.

Harry Hamble, former v. Alabama, has just died, at Salinas, California. He was the only negro ever elected to a United States senate seat, and they wouldn't let him sit. So, as the next best thing he became a minstrel.—Columbus Citizen.

MOVING PICTURES.

Life's Span Lengthens by Rules.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Interrupt a group of children playing heartily at some game. Ask them how many want to live to be a hundred. Not one will raise his hand.

Go into a child where twenty, old men are playing chess. Ask them how many want to live to be a hundred. As soon as you can gain their attention and have a chance to ask them what it is you are asking, every hand will be raised.

It costs an agony of years to be born into this world. It costs a day of almost momentary attention to enter the young life from babyhood to vigorous childhood. It costs a heap of money to give an education to the youth. It takes a mint to start him on his way to worldly success.

What an enormous and sentimental loss it is to lose a life cut off before it has made a larger return to the government. If the expenditure of time and money could be increased by twenty years, the potential wealth of the world and its actual wealth, too, would be multiplied.

What is the prospect of such increase? This is a question much discussed on every hand. Recently Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale university, presented his views on the subject.

Here are some of the things he said:

"The average man doesn't realize how far from a normal life he is in his—how much alcohol, tobacco, and other he takes, how he over-eats, his lack of exercise, lack of sleep, lack of sunlight, lack of deep breathing, undigested food, constipation, defective teeth, eye strain and constriction of the body from the wrong kind of clothing. One hundred per cent. of mankind is something wrong with it."

"These are preventable diseases. They show we have much to learn. We must get rid of the 'something wrong' the hundred per cent. of us have. When each of us does that sensible thing there will be a tremendous addition to the present day expectation of life. Let's begin now."

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

P. R. Q. What causes a pain across my back from my shoulder blade?

A. This condition may be due to lumbargia. Massage and heat applications are beneficial in treatment. If these do not help try having the back strapped.

P. R. Q. I am a girl of sixteen, four feet eleven inches tall. What should I weigh?

A. You should weigh about 118 pounds.

P. R. Q. I am dying to reduce. Are breakfast foods, crackers, oatmeal, beans, carrots, turnips, jaspais and spinach fattening?

A.—Anything eaten in excess is fattening. The first three foods you mention are naturally more fattening than fresh green vegetables. Restrict your diet in regard to sweets and starches and take plenty of outdoor exercise. This should be reducing.—Copyright, 1926.

P. R. Q. How can I overcome constipation?

A.—This condition may be remedied by correct eating. Avoid foods indigestible in fats and starches, eat bean muffins and sweet fruits to your diet. Fresh air and exercise are both very essential. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Somewhere we read that "we are intelligent beings, and intelligent beings can not have been formed by a blind, brute, insensible being. There is certainly some difference between a blind and the ideas of Newton. Newton's intelligence came from some greater intelligence."

Well, what have you to say about that? Do not think that you are all accident on the face of the universe. Nothing so fraught with the possibilities of power as man can be an accident.

Science has proved to us that the stars, the planets, the sun and other suns beyond our keep their courses and have their being all in accordance with natural law and order. Law and order in the universe do not permit of accidents. And man is not one.

Voltaire, great French philosopher, died at eighty-three. His friends said he was cut off in his prime—when life for him was at its brightest and best.

That's encouraging for older folks. This is a strange and interesting world, full of all sorts of interesting possibilities. When you are eighty you have a right to feel that your best years are ahead.

"If I have succeeded in my art, it is simply because I have been well sustained," said Henry Irving, making a curtain speech.

How many of us take thought to be thankful for the aid of others which makes it possible for us to achieve some sort of success. We are dependent, one upon another, and ought to recognize it.

"The soul is everything," said Plato. "The soul knows all things," said Emerson.

All just a way of saying that the most important thing in all the world is the soul. It is your capacity to rise triumphant above everything in life that would pull you down. It is the soul which is the real you. In right relationship to its Creator it is infinitely powerful.

An old lady, hearing Henry Ward Beecher preach for the first time, went home and said: "I don't think he is so very great—I understood everything he said."

The poor lady didn't realize that the most vital thing about a great writer or great speaker is his simplicity of expression. When expression, in writing or speaking, isn't plain and easy to understand, the author has blundered in the use of the finest tool that man has ever invented—the tool of language.

Dinner Stories.

A respected citizen of Kennebunk, Maine, has suffered of late from a slipping of the intellect which has caused much concern among his family and friends. One of the latter, meeting the afflicted man on the street, asked after his health. "You know," he replied, "I've lost my mind. But I don't miss it."

The author of the new play sat quietly in his box until just before the curtain fell in the last act, when suddenly he exclaimed: "Ah, there it is!"

"What?" inquired his friend.

"Why, the line of mine they've left in."

The teacher was explaining the meaning of the word "unit." Picking up various objects, she asked what they were and each time received the answer, "A unit."

Finally, she took from her desk an orange. "And what is this?" she asked. "A unit," was the answer.

"Taking her knife, the teacher peeled the orange, and holding the peeling in her hand, she inquired: "What is this?"

The class looked confused, but thoughtful. After a time, a hand went up. "What is it, James?" asked the teacher.

"That is the skin of a unit," asserted James.

Today's Events.

Friday, December 10, 1926.

Two weeks from tonight will be Christmas Eve.

Centenary of the birth of John Henry Kin-head, first territorial governor of Alaska.

Sir James Aikins, eminent leader of the Canadian bar and former lieutenant governor of Manitoba, is seventy-five years old today.

Jerusalem today celebrated the beginning of the tenth year of her independence from the rule of the Turks.

Desmond Harmsworth, nephew of Viscount Rothemann, the English newspaper publisher, was married today to Miss Dorothy Henline, of Bridgeport, Ohio.

For the first time in its history, the Ohio society of New York, composed of former residents of Ohio, has invited women to attend its forty-first annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight.

EPWORTH SUNDAY SCHOOL PLANS CHRISTMAS BILL

Arrangements Being Made for Most Elaborate Program Ever Given

Plans for the most elaborate Christmas entertainment ever attempted by Epworth M. D. Sunday School, took definite form at the first practice held Wednesday by a cast of 25 members of the school. The church choir, directed by Earl Ruhlman, and the large Sunday school orchestra, under the leadership of William Dowler, will assist in the performance.

A huge bill, probably the largest ever seen in Marion, is being constructed for the pageant. This book, nine by twelve feet in size will cover the entire front of the church. Extensive electrical effects will be worked out to present the old, old story of the first Christmas. The program is to be given Sunday, Dec. 19, at 7 o'clock.

USED PIANOS FOR CHRISTMAS

We make it possible for anyone to own a Piano, by our small down payment, and monthly installment plan. We also have some Pianos to rent. Come in, talk it over with Mr. Irvine, Sales Mgr., Piano Dept., at Paddock Transfer Co., 126 Oak St.—Adv.

Skilled Harness Makers Disappearing as Auto Shoves Horse Out of Picture

AMONG the many trades that have flourished and now are slowly passing on, is that of harness maker. There are only five shops in Marion, and of these only three were the old time harness makers, who learned their trade as an apprentice.

Edward Miller, who runs a harness and leather goods store on N. Main-st., is one of these three, and is also probably the oldest in active service. He has been making harness for 44 years, and is still going strong.

That was when Marion and the territory around it supported a dozen harness shops and harness makers. This on a smaller population of persons but a much larger population of horses. All of the decline of the harness makers' trade should not be blamed on the automobile. This affected it greatly, but the advent of machinery and harness factories brought about another factor in the decrease in business.

Apprenticed at 16 Edward Miller was apprenticed to learn the harness making trade when he was 16 years old. He will be 60 his next birthday. For three years he worked as an apprentice and then became a full fledged harness maker. He has been operating his own shop for the past 12 years.

The time may come when the last of the old time harness makers will pass on. There are no boys being apprenticed to learn harness making any more. Those who make harness in factories learn only one operation in the making and are not skilled in the way the old timers in the game are. These veteran harness men know leather; they feel its quality with their hands, and they can do some remarkable things with their hand tools and fine quality leather.

Edward Miller tells with pride of the set of racing harness he once made. This full set of trotting harness from crupper to bridle weighed only 1 1/2 pounds. Most of the equipment was made of double play leather only three-eighths of an inch wide. Every piece was double stitched, with two rows of hand stitching binding the pieces together, and the stitching was guaranteed to carry 16 stitches to the inch. That was fine work.

"That set of harness was the only thing I ever bragged about," says Miller.

There was lots of racing harness made by the old time harness makers. The owners were finicky about their harness and had made to order. The leather was of the finest and was all hand cut and stitched.

Modern machinery is used in harness shops now to cut and stitch most of the leather. There is considerable business in the harness line in the spring and fall, even with the decline in the use of horses. The decrease in the number of harness makers has been as fast or faster than that of the horses, and the business still rates its place in the world.

Poor Fall

There was not much to brag about this fall in the business, however, Miller says. Harness makers now feel the pinch of money quicker than most anyone else. A farmer feels he can get along without the harness, but he must have food and clothing, and very likely gasoline and tires, before anything else. Work harness, of course is all that is sold, as light driving harness is practically extinct.

Miller speaks of business this year as being poor because of the failure of many farmers to get in their oats and corn, which means less money for them to put out for repairs to harness and other equipment.

CHARGES GROSS NEGLECT IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Brookes Files
Action Against John Brookes
in Court

Suit for divorce charging gross neglect and extreme cruelty has been filed by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Brookes against John Brookes. They were married Nov. 29, 1910, and have no children.

According to the petition Mrs. Brookes claims her husband has found fault with her ever since they have been married, and has several times threatened to leave her. She says they are not living together. She charges that she has been forced to learn much of her own living since her marriage.

COUNTY BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS IN NOVEMBER

Nineteen Born During Month;
Only 10 Persons Die,
Report Shows

Births exceeded deaths nearly two to one in the county, according to the report of vital statistics compiled by the county health department for the month of November. The report is for that section of the county outside of the city of Marion.

There were 19 births reported during the month, with eight boys and 11 girls born. Deaths were only 10, six of the male and four female.

Acute pneumonia, pneumonia and pulmonary tuberculosis were each the cause of two deaths during the month. One person died of organic heart disease, one of diphtheria and two of other causes.

REPORTED IMPROVED
Miss Rose Sossy, who has been ill of throat trouble for 10 days at her home, 257 Leander, is reported greatly improved today.

To endure poverty without leisure, that is truly wearing chains.

Old Shep Drank Pint of Nitro and— Well, There Isn't Any Old Shep Anymore

RAVINA, Ky., Dec. 8.—Old Shep was nobody's dog. But for years he had been known to the oil workers. He seemed to like the smell of the petroleum. He always played around the derricks.

All day Old Shep had been frisking around the workers, sniffing at the derrick holes, chasing imaginary enemies.

He sniffed around for a drink. A bucket over against a rock looked promising. There was a thick brown liquid in it. Not so good, but liquid. Old Shep drank.

"Hey, there, Shep, clear out, you fool!"

Old Shep slunk away. With him he carried a pint of nitroglycerine which had been set out in the bucket to thaw.

After a while Old Shep began to feel a little slow on his feet. He crawled under the house of Norman Conley. A man ran up to Conley's door.

"That dog has got a pint of 'sonny' in him, for God's sake, get out of the house," he yelled.

Conley took his wife and 10 children to the hillside, then came back with a shot gun. He leveled his gun at old Shep but didn't shoot.

A seven or eight-pound blow will set off nitro, and old Shep had enough in him to wreck the house and kill everybody near it. The men retired to the hillside and waited.

Finally old Shep crawled out and trotted to the drillings again. For some reason, his friends shied away from him. Every hand that used to stroke his head threatened now. Shep gave it up and started hunting for rabbits.

He struck a trail and let out a

WIEDEMANN TAKES OATH AS COUNTY PROSECUTOR

Qualifies To Continue as Legal Advisor in Clerk of Court
Office

Frank Wiedemann is now qualified to continue as prosecuting attorney of Marion County. He has taken the oath of office and is ready to continue right on with the duties of legal advisor and criminal prosecutor of the county.

The oath of office was administered by M. L. Wilson, deputy clerk of courts, at the courthouse Thursday afternoon.

This is Wiedemann's second term, he having been re-elected to the office in the election in November.

little zap of excitement. He nosed through the brush. At a respectful distance, the crowd of men watched. From under Shep's very nose the rabbit jumped and raced away. Shep in full cry behind.

Unexpectedly the rabbit stopped and shot off at right angles. Shep couldn't stop. He kept right on going over a 45-foot cliff.

The watching men, 100 yards away, heard a terrific blast, dirt and stone spouted into the air. A part of the cliff slumped down the undermined side.

"We never found a trace of old Shep," said Dr. E. S. Kaywood, one of the horseholders who tell the story. "We found a five-foot crater where he exploded when he hit."

NORTH DAKOTA VISITOR TO WHITE HOUSE

Coolidge Takes Senator Nye to Fold: Writer Says Times Have Changed

By CHARLES L. STEWART
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Senator
W. C. Clegg, Nye was a White House visitor today.

At the last session of congress Leon Coolidge would have been about as likely to visit the White House as a senator.

But now the senator is a regular visitor. He is one of the few senators

She's wanted it so long

Long ago she probably expressed, at least to herself, a wish for a Hoover to take from her shoulders the wearisome toil of household cleaning. Yet she goes uncomplainingly ahead, taking upon herself the too-heavy burden, rather than ask you for this aid that should be there.

Now—this Christmas end her housecleaning toil forever! Call up now, and have us set aside one of the new Hoovers. They are remarkable in the greater cleaning efficiency which Positive Agitation has given. They remove, in ordinary cleaning time, 131% more dirt than any previous model.

The gift of the finest, the most efficient cleaner obtainable will be a source of pleasure to you and a joy to her. As for the cost—you can pay in small amounts, if need be. We'll give you full details when you phone, and deliver the Hoover any day you say. Only $6.25 down, complete with dusting tools.

Sensational One Day Sale! Walking, Talking Dolls

$5

Tomorrow Only

Saturday! For one day only, we place on sale these big, walking, talking Mamma Dolls! They stand 21 inches high, fully dressed, go to sleep, cry mamma and walk when taken by the hands. The most remarkable doll value we have ever offered — for one day only, tomorrow.

They Have Beautiful Hair and Eyes That Sleep

Children will be overjoyed when they see these dolls. When they are taken by the hands the dolls walk just like a baby and when carried in the arms they cry "Mamma" in the most life-like manner imaginable. Large unbreakable heads, wonderful hair, blue eyes that open and close—fully dressed, even to patent leather slippers.

Convenient Credit Terms

Even at this special price it will not be necessary to pay the entire amount in cash. We'll be glad to open an account for you, upon making just a small deposit, and you can pay for one of these wonderful dolls after Christmas at your convenience.
But be early! There will be such a tremendous rush for these dolls they may not last the entire day.

U. S. OF EUROPE INDUSTRY'S AIM, SAY BRITISH

Important Secret Meeting Was for Purpose of Arranging Union

London, Dec. 10.—The idea of a "United States of Europe" was the primary reason for the recent important, but secret, meeting between the heads of British and German industries. On one side the meeting was headed by Sir Robert Horne, ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, now one of the leading figures in "big business" of today; on the other side the German delegation was led by Dr. Cuno, former Chancellor of Germany.

The meeting took place at the country home, Broadlands, of Colonel Wilfred Ashley, a member of the British government and Minister of Transport. The discussions were carried on with the full knowledge and approval of the British government.

Tariffs Discussed

Tariffs formed the keynote of the discussions, and a remarkable map, graphically illustrating the comparative heights of tariff walls erected by various European countries, was one of the center of attention in the "United States of Europe."

Both sides agreed on the view that the continual building of tariff walls is harmful to trade, and the delegates envisaged a future in which there would be no tariff barriers within Europe, but, on the other hand, an actual "United States of Europe."

It was realized that it would take years to educate the different nations alike up to this standard, but both sides undertook to do their best.

Agreement was also reached between the nations as to price, production and quality of various articles, and a plan was evolved mutually to avoid "dumping," on the ground of its being inimical to stable economic conditions.

The next meeting of the two sets of industrialists will take place in Berlin.

"The only salvation for Europe lies in a 'League' for industry," says

GIRL MASQUERADES AS BOY FOR EIGHT MONTHS; FINED $50

"Jacques Morel", pictured above, is not a boy, but a 22-year-old Denver, Colo., girl. A judge has decided she must don the garb of a girl or pay a fine of $50. "Jacques" was picked up in Butte, Mont., after she had carried on her masquerade for eight months.

Sir Robert Horne, "Industry in Britain is in a bad way. The stoppage of the coal industry threatens wide circles of trade and industry with collapse. Steel and iron industries are unable to reduce the costs of production and compete with low-wage countries."

"Not only are British exports down, but the country is actually importing iron and steel. Even confirmed optimists are becoming sceptical as to the future of the country. Depression is rampant in the shipbuilding, shipping, woolen and cotton trades."

"It is urgently necessary to stabilize British industry by cooperation with European competition, instead of fighting like cutthroat competitors."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD BUYS LOAD OF STEERS

15 Angus Yearling Champions at Chicago Livestock Show

The Pennsylvania Railroad has purchased the Grand Champion load of 15 Angus yearling steers from the International Livestock Show at Chicago, together with the loads of prize beef for its dining cars. The steers, which were shown on the Broadway show and all other Pennsylvania trains, it was announced here today.

The Grand Champion load of 15 Angus yearling steers came from the big farm of John Hubby, Mason City, Minn. It was the best load of prize beef ever exhibited. Mr. Hubby had entries in the livestock show for eight years and this year's winning load brought him the championship.

Choicest Cuts
The choicest cuts of the eight loads of prize beef, which total about 30,000 pounds, will be used in the Pennsylvania dining cars. The steers and ribs will be served on special trains during the Christmas week, but all other cuts will be sold as Blue Ribbon beef at Armour & Co.

It is estimated that 30,000 pounds of the prize beef will be required to feed Pennsylvania Railroad patrons during the Christmas holidays. Last year nearly 100,000 meals were served to patrons of Pennsylvania dining cars.

James P. Anderson, passenger traffic manager of Chicago, personally supervised the purchase of the prize beef at the livestock show. It was bought at the direction of President W. W. Atterbury and Vice President T. B. Hamilton of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Barry Leaves
Mr. Barry and his company left yesterday on Erie Train No. 16 for Marion, where he will put on his show.

On Free Trip

HANDS TERRIBLY SWOLLEN FROM RHEUMATISM

Gets relief overnight from simple home treatment

After having suffered with rheumatism for years, and tried all kinds of remedies in vain, a Washington, D. C., woman has at last found a way to get quick, sure relief.

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for years," she writes. "At times my hands are terribly swollen. Sloan's Liniment always gives me relief in a very short time. I have tried other liniments, but nothing equals Sloan's."

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to its stimulating effect upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh, new blood—clears out rheumatism germs—kills pain.

So pleasant, easy and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just lay it on gently and you will get immediate results. Get a bottle today. All drug stores—35 cents.

GREAT TIN RUSH ON IN CORNWALL, ENGLAND

Scenes Are Reminiscent of Klondike Gold Scramble Years Ago

Plymouth, Eng., Dec. 16.—Scenes reminiscent of the Klondike gold rush are being enacted in Cornwall, where Great Britain's oldest industry, tin mining, has entered upon a new era of prosperity after languishing for years.

The cause is a world shortage of tin, a greatly increased demand being due to the conversion of the metal to such varied uses as the weighting of artificial silk for near-silk stockings, wrappers for candies, and fittings for radio sets and automobiles. In a few years the price of tin has risen from $800 to $1655 per ton.

Cornish tin mines which for years have been idle or nearly idle are now working at full strength. Prospectors are exploring every part of the adjacent moors in an endeavor to locate new fields, while men are even taking the beaches after every tide to retrieve deposits washed in the days of plentiful supplies and low prices.

Little groups of men known as "tin miners" may be seen from early morning to sunset panning the streams to capture the minute grains of tin which have escaped from the stamps and crushers of the mines. They claim to be making a comfortable living for their labors, every pound of tin so gathered being worth at least fifty cents to them.

Mine in the neighborhood of Penryn and Camborne are a hive of industry. Nearly a quarter million dollars have been paid in wages in the past nine months in this district alone, while the profits being accrued by the mine-owners are amply repaying them for the past years of near-bankruptcy.

The Prince of Wales, as owner of the Duchy of Cornwall, is one of the chief earners in this boom.

A huge percentage of the tin mined in these parts is bought by the American tin canning industries, and the possibility of canned foods being increased in price is foreseen if tin prices advance any higher.

SIX WOMEN NOW IN ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 10.—Women will play an increasingly important part in the proceedings of the Illinois legislature at the coming session.

Five of the gentler sex, three Republicans and two Democrats, will have their say in the lower house while only one will take a place on the floor of the senate.

The house boasted of three women members at the last election.

Holders of members of the house are: Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove; and Mrs. Lena Elrod and Mrs. Katherine Hancock Goode, both of Chicago.

New women members of the house elected Nov. 2 are Mrs. John H. Hanley, Monmouth, and Mrs. Mary C. McAdams, Quincy.

Mrs. Florence Fitter Bohrer, Republican of Bloomington is the only woman member of the senate.

BARN BURNS

Property of William Welher, Mr. Gilead, Completely Destroyed

Mr. Gilead, Dec. 10.—A barn belonging to William Welher, situated on the corner of the Livingston and Sun streets, was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. The barn was owned by Mrs. Jay Rinehart and the department quickly arrived at the scene, but a broken hose somewhat delayed the work of the men.

Livingston & Sun lost about $250 worth of merchandise, which was stored in the barn. The cause of the fire is not known.

M. P. CHURCH SOCIETIES HOLD JOINT MEETING

Cardington, Dec. 10.—The Ladies Aid and Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant church held a meeting at the home of Mrs. C. M. Durr Wednesday night. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Ray Carl, the president, had charge of the business session. Final orders for Christmas cards were received. Plans were made for a market to be held Saturday, Dec. 18. The Missionary society then had charge of a business session with Mrs. Ray Carl, vice president, presiding. Several letters concerning the work of the society were read. In these a very urgent appeal for the work at Pine Ridge, Ky., was included. It was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. William Powell on the Gilead Wednesday night, Dec. 22.

W. R. Conway, publisher of the Independent, attended a meeting of the Red Cross Press association at Columbus Friday, at which the program was planned for the annual meeting of the association to be held at Columbus February 10 and 11.

BALKAN LEADER IS DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Nikola Pachitch, Radical in Politics for Nearly 50 Years;
Imprisoned Twice

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, Dec. 10.—Nikola Pachitch, famous radical leader of the Balkans and former prime minister of Jugoslavia, died today at the age of 81.

Death came as the result of a long illness, added to the infirmities of age. Nikola Pachitch had been active in Balkan politics for nearly 50 years, during all of which time he has been a factor to be reckoned with in any dealings with the Balkan peoples. He was even a fearless, picturesque, headstrong leader. He was known as the "Grand Old Man of Serbia."

During his political career, he saw many changes in the Balkans. His life was bound up with the fortunes of little Serbia, the center of so much intrigue and bickering. He was prime minister more than a dozen times. He was twice sent to prison because of differences with the Otkomovitch dynasty.

The greatest triumph was at the Paris peace conference, when he succeeded in bringing the Croats, Serbs, and Slovenes to accept the present constitution of Jugoslavia thus insuring a greater Serbia.

M'CLINTOCK REHEARING MOTION DENIED TODAY

Validity Issue on Famous Will Now Thrown on Cook County Court

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 10.—The Supreme Court today denied a rehearing in the M'Clintock will case.

The high court at the October session had decided the will of "Billy" M'Clintock, which named William B. Shepherd, of Chicago, as chief beneficiary, should be admitted to probate. The Supreme Court did not pass upon the validity of the will itself, and any further action to contest its validity will now have to be taken in the Cook County court.

Shepherd stood trial in Chicago for M'Clintock's "germ" murder, but was acquitted.

METHODIST REFORMS TO OPPOSE AL'S CAMPAIGN

Washington, Dec. 10.—The Methodist reform forces of the country will oppose Governor Al Smith, of New York, for the presidency not because he is a Catholic, but because he is wet. Dr. Clarence True Wilson declared today in opening the 17th annual meeting of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals.

"We will stand for a man who is loyal to the 18th amendment and the Volstead act and enforcement regardless of whether he is Protestant, Catholic or Jew," said Wilson.

POLICE ON LOOKOUT FOR MAN AND YOUTH

Local police received a message from Marysville, last night, requesting them to watch for a man and a boy, presumed to be father and son, wanted on a charge of passing worthless checks.

Prior to passing checks in Marysville, the message stated, the pair worked in Wapakoneta, where they registered at a hotel at T. E. Caldwell and son. They were last seen boarding a northbound interurban car at Delaware, according to the report.

Old One Room Schoolhouse Seriously Damaged In Fire

Kenton, Dec. 10.—Fire has been started from an overloaded stove, gutted the Taylor Creek Township school, south of here, Thursday evening, destroying the building, and seriously damaging the contents. The school was a one room building, built in 1882, and was used for many years as a school. It was destroyed by a fire which started from an overloaded stove. The fire spread to other nearby buildings.

Students reporting for class first discovered the fire and spread the alarm. Volunteer fire fighters were unable to save any of the contents of the room but prevented the blaze from spreading to other nearby buildings.

Although the burning of the school may have been the answer to the traditional boy's prayer, it is recognized that the old schoolhouse was one of the first ever built in this section of the country.

According to history, the first school built on the present site, was a frame building, containing the same school sections of "Hale, Buck and Linn" townships. It was built in 1882 of brick.

The disastrous fire brought to light the unusual coincidence that the present teacher of the school, Miss Pauline Sieg, is a grand daughter of the first teacher, the late Jacob Sieg, who taught back in 1882 when the first school was built.

Plans are now being made to rebuild the abandoned Hickory Grove school building to house the thirty students enrolled at Taylor Creek.

AIMING TO DO

something has spoiled more opportunities, booting away more good trades, ruined more bright prospects, and killed more hopes than in their tracks, than every other reason combined.

The aim to do, like the poor, is with us always, and 69 chances out of a possible hundred right now you are aiming to do something you will never do.

The unfortunate angle to the whole aiming game is that the lack of a little ready cash makes aimers out of a lot of people who would otherwise become doers. They aim to lay their coat next week, but that new furniture in the spring, overhaul the automobile in the summer, have a new suit in the fall, when there is plenty of money to go all the way round. Of course that happy time comes not, and another aim is blasted.

Marion Chantel Loan Co., 126 S. State-st., is the one best, infallible cure for those who aim, by getting the money today you may do now what you had hoped to do in the future.—Adv.

OIL MAGNATE SAYS LOAN WAS FRIENDLY DEAL

Deheny Unable To Understand Why Transaction Should Be Suspected

Washington, Dec. 10.—In a calm but incisive and at times almost snide, L. L. Deheny, oil magnate, under a rapid fire cross-examination by government counsel, told the jury in the oil conspiracy trial today that he could conceive of no reason why suspicion should attach to his loan of $100,000 to the government.

Owen J. Roberts, of the government staff, tried dogmatically to bring down the story of the loan, which Deheny said was a perfectly natural transaction between old friends who had suffered many hardships together. The oil man stuck consistently to his earlier testimony.

Deheny was on the stand all night for almost eight hours. With this testimony, a lot of the way, the defense is expected to rest its case, probably later in the day.

Full will not take the witness stand. The defense will seek to show with the testimony of Deheny that his loan to the government was a perfectly natural transaction between old friends who had suffered many hardships together. The oil man stuck consistently to his earlier testimony.

ADA BANKER DIES

Funeral Services For Charles W. Ranser, 82, Held at Home Today

Kenton, Dec. 10.—Funeral services for Charles W. Ranser, 82, retired Hamilton county farmer and Ada banker, whose death occurred at his home near here Thursday after a two years' illness, were conducted today.

From the home of his son, C. C. Ranser, in charge of Rev. J. P. Newberry of Ada, interment in Ada cemetery.

The deceased was born in Deary, Idaho, and came to Hamilton county, Kentucky, five years ago with his parents. He had three sons, all of whom are actively engaged in farming. He was a member of the L. O. O. F. lodge in Ada, and at one time served six years as county officer for Hamilton county and as clerk of Marion township.

Five sons, Attorney William W. and Clarence A. Ada, and C. C. Ranser, and Frank of west of here, and one brother, Jonathan, of near Ada, survive.

SEVEN BULLETS IN BODY, YET LIVES

Niles, Dec. 10.—Although seven shots from an automatic pistol were fired into her body as she lay in bed early today, Mrs. Mary Ketchick, 38, is not thought to be in a serious condition.

John Ketchick, her husband, and three male boarders at the Ketchick home have been detained by police.

The woman, who was shot in the arms and shoulders, denied that her husband had done the shooting but could give no clue to her assailant.

LIBRARY CIRCULATION ON INCREASE, REPORT

3,891 More Books Taken Out
During November Over
Preceding Month

Four thousand eight hundred and ninety-one more books, circulated at the library since the month of November, 1926, as compared with the preceding month.

A total number of 141 books were added to the library, the report stated, the increase making a total number of 12,248 books now in the library since its inception, and a collection of 13,673 books now in circulation.

The greater number of books were added by purchase although many were received as gifts or were added by finding. Only one of the books needed was over the juvenile department.

One hundred and ninety-six books were received and 102 borrowed with new during the month, making a total circulation of 2,200. Seventy-two books were needed.

CARL W. SMITH ELECTED HEAD OF KIWANIS

Business Man and Former Postmaster, President of Kenton Civic Group

Kenton, Dec. 10.—Carl W. Smith, business man and former postmaster, was elected president of the Kenton Kiwanis club at the annual election of officers Thursday. He succeeds W. T. Ancker who retires after two successful years.

Four other candidates were entered in the presidential race: Rure Finnell, "Colonel" Ellis, J. Sterling Clover and Harry Pusey. Charles Campbell was in charge of the election as chairman of the club elections committee.

J. V. Conner, merchant, was re-elected vice-president and W. T. Ancker, trustee, for the coming year. The office of club treasurer was accorded H. W. Granlich, banker, for the fourth successive term.

Others elected were: Fred Brindley, Dr. C. C. Patton and J. W. Hittman, directors. Other members of the board are: J. C. Holsberry, J. E. Henson, N. J. Alexander and Carl W. Smith.

Appointive officers of secretary and corresponding secretary, are at present filled by J. A. Lynch and N. J. Alexander.

Final installation services will be held in the near future.

During the meeting yesterday the club members laid plans for the annual distribution of Christmas presents to worthy poor children of the city. The distribution will be made Christmas Eve at the base of the huge community Christmas tree to be erected in the up-town district.

Play Third Industrial Round Monday

RAILWAY SERVICE AND COMMERCIAL TEAMS TO MEET

C. D. & M. Plays Engineers; Business College Meets Hubers

The three games scheduled for the first round of the Marion Industrial League Monday night, the Railway Service-Commercial (C. D. & M.) and Engineers (Hubers) will take the floor in the 10 o'clock game. C. D. & M. and Engineers will tie up in the 11 o'clock game and Hubers and Marion Business College will match skill in the 12 o'clock game.

The Railway Service has won two games and suffered no defeats while the Commercial crew holds a record of no losses. The Engineers have won only one game, but have shown up exceptionally well in the games played so far and are evenly matched.

In the Marion Industrial League, the Commercial team has a slight edge on the Railway Service. Two weeks ago, the Commercial defeated Fairfield 15-10, while the Railway Service won 15-10, while the Commercial won 10-10 over the Fairfield.

C. D. & M. Meets Engineers
The C. D. & M. quintet should have no trouble in defeating the Fairfield Engineers in the first fray of the third round. The C. D. & M. are equipped with a probably the best lineup in the league, including Phillips, Miller, Torrey, Mearl, and Davis. They have won a game.

The Hubers-Business College skirmish should result in a victory for Hubers, although the victory for Hubers is by no means certain. The Hubers have won two games in which they have participated in the league. Business College did not show the stuff displayed by the Hubers in the games played so far.

To Award Jacket
A jacket, given by Charles E. Smith, will be awarded made to the best player of the third round.

In previous occasions, the awards have been made to the man receiving the highest number of points, but, according to announcement made today, the winner of the prize Monday night will not necessarily have to be the person who was lucky enough to pile up a large number of points.

The winner of the prize will be announced at the game and the award will probably be made on merit and not on the basis of points shown during the game.

POSTOFFICE TEAM TAKES THREE IN INDUSTRIAL LOOP

Defeats American Expressmen by Large Margin Last Night

Postoffice bowlers had little trouble in holding a prominent place in the Industrial League Bowling League standing last night, when they walloped the American Express Co. in three consecutive games.

At the conclusion of the Postoffice was high score of the match and accounted for 192 points in one game. Peter's total of 521 for the three games was high. McNeal was high man for the American Express Co., rolling 176 in the final tie.

The final games of the tenth round of the Industrial League are scheduled for tonight when the Stars meet the Engineers. Huber team and Logan gas meets the Blackmen. The results of the games tonight will bring about a change in the league standing.

It is not yet known when the C. D. & M.-Anthony Laundry match will be played but it is probable that the two teams will battle during the forepart of the week. The games were postponed Wednesday night because of the death of E. C. Macken's father.

WILDCATS READY FOR MARTEL FIVE

To Play First Out-of-Town Game at Martel Tonight

Marion Wildcats journey to Martel tonight to meet with the Martel High School crew in their first out-of-town game of the season.

The Wildcats are out to tuck under victory under their belt and get Martel a lesson in the first game of the season. The Wildcats have not yet won a game and are looking for a victory to start the season. The Martel team is known and its strength also is not known but the Wildcats are ready for anything.

The starting lineup for the local game is Ed Hachton, Joff, M. G. Perry and L. Krisher. They are likely to see action are Smith, Tobi and Keller.

Are you crooked? Can you resist from buying or keeping things that will only get in your way?

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

For years St. Louis was known in baseball as the city of fortune hunters, six-day-a-week managers and brewers. Then Rogers Hornsby gave it a ball player.

Later Rogers gave it a pennant winning ball club.

Now Bob O'Farrell has rendered first aid to the chamber of commerce and the city of St. Louis.

The recent election by popular vote of the baseball committee of Bob O'Farrell, Cardinal catcher, as the most valuable player to his team in the National League last season gives that city the proud record of having three "most precious" ball players within its borders.

Two are stars still in the ascension with the St. Louis Cardinals. The future of the other, George Sisler, is rather uncertain. But St. Louis claims all three—and the achievements which made them such.

While the $1,000 check that goes with the annual award has some intrinsic value (at the present rate of exchange) the honor alone is a coveted one. It signifies that in the opinion of a group of men who know (eight prominent baseball writers around the circuit) O'Farrell led all the others in baseball service to his team.

Bob, himself, rather smiles as he accepts the honor. He paid him some day next summer, when the game will be held up while he receives his trophies. The Chicago Cubs decided they didn't need him when Charley Hartnett, another backstop, developed a propensity for sucking home runs into the short left field bleachers. Bob was traded to the Cards early in the 1925 campaign for Mike Gonzales and Barney Egan.

O'Farrell a few years ago, was a third string catcher with the Columbus Senators.

OHIO STATE FIVE FACES WESLEYAN TEAM IN OPENER

Green Quintet Pitted Against Veteran Wesleyan Cagers

Columbus, O., Dec. 10.—A green team, rebuilt from the ground up will be pitted against a veteran quintet here tonight when Ohio State opens its 1926-1927 basketball campaign with Ohio Wesleyan as the foe. Not more than one of the 11 Ohio State athletes who played against the Methodists a year ago is booked to start tonight, while the invaders will have veterans in four of the five positions.

Sophomores and erstwhile football men make up the bulk of the players whom Coach Olsen is likely to nominate to start the season. Not men are certain to adorn at least three of the five places.

The probable forwards are Grim, the erstwhile halfback, who was a member of last winter's squad; Hecktor, one of the two "O" men now available; and Hendrix, a sophomore. "Buck" Hamilton, another sophomore, has the call for center replacing the giant "Cookie" Cunningham who was graduated.

Captain Bill Hunt is certain to hold down one of the guard jobs. He did not get into the game until late last winter because of the broken leg he suffered during the 1925 football season. He looks forward to a good season during the coming winter, however.

Joe Cox, of Dayton, and Dave Carter, of Springfield, two other sophomores and both football men, are battling it out just now for the other guard jobs. Byron Eby, Harry Penner, Marty Karow and other football men may also break into the fray.

Ohio State defeated Ohio Wesleyan a year ago, 40 to 12. But Cunningham and Dempsey, who accounted for 27 of the 40 Buckeye points, have been graduated. Tarter, who made seven more, is ineligible and Bell, who registered the remainder, is on the sick list.

The game with Ohio Wesleyan is the first of five pre-Big Ten season contests slated for the Buckeyes. Ohio University is slated to play here next Tuesday night in what will be the last game until the holiday.

Between Christmas and the reopening of school in January the Ohio State will entertain three eastern quintets, a Cornell, Princeton and Pittsburgh. Cornell and Princeton have played here before, but it will be Pittsburgh's first invasion of the redsoil.

Did they ever, in the history of the world, throw eggs at anyone, or is that the "cavalry" at a public meeting, something that no human being ever heard?

Professional Tennis Due for Legislative Action When Association Meets

Lawn Tennis Association Will Likely Treat So-Called Professional Menace with Profound and Depressing Silence in Its Meet Saturday, Says Walsh

New York, Dec. 10.—Professional tennis, the bane of all gentlemen who parade behind the band wagon of the United States Lawn Tennis Association as a hobby of love, probably will come in for a legislative broadside tomorrow, when the association's executive committee will convene in all its annual displeasure over matters in general.

Publicly, the committee is likely to treat the so-called professional menace with profound and depressing silence.

HERE'S ANOTHER ALL-AMERICAN

There seems to be plenty of material for this year's all-American football selections, says Ted Cook in his New York "Cook-Cook." To prove his point Ted gives the following:

Friedman	Michigan
Kasiska	Wisconsin
Apelt	Chicago
Raskowski	Ohio State
Reitsch	Illinois
Polisky	Notre Dame
Vodisch	Drake
Hezmalbach	Pennona
Koerinsky	Purdue
Schulmerich	O. A. C.
Krysi	Kansas Jayes
Crawitz	Caltek

In this way, it will plainly indicate that a condition which existed in it from the time of the late Mr. L. J. Langel, Vincent Richards, Howard Kline, Mary Browne and others during a single season is beneath its notice. Then, under cover of the locked door and the plumed keyhole, it will prove its indifference by enacting such legislation as it thinks will cramp the style of those who would make lawn tennis a gainful occupation.

I do not seem to understand just how a resolution is to alter the impression, entertained by some ill-informed individuals, that you can buy more leaves of bread with a dollar than you can with a loving cup. Still the boys are most resolute about something and there seems to be a general tendency, here and elsewhere, to view this particular situation with alarm.

The British, for a rewritten rule, which they say will "clearly define the amateur."

The writer seems to remember that that was done some years ago by a man of great perspicacity. He characterized an amateur as a guy who wouldn't take a check.

"Teeth" in Resolutions
However, the English say they have put what they are pleased to call "teeth" in their resolution and now I presume that there will be nothing left for C. C. Pyle but an arid and comfortable old age. He might take up the profession of dentist, however.

Similar action, it is whispered, will be taken by the executive committee tomorrow. Then its deliberations will be duly read into the activities at the annual meeting in February, after which Charles Pyle will be given 24 hours in which to leave the country, change his name or shave the left side of his lip.

Meantime, official tennis circles are

CALEDONIA GAGE CAPTAIN OUSTED

Ralph Bayles Dismissed When He Violates Rules

With the dismissal of Capt. Ralph Bayles from the Caledonia High school basketball squad by Coach Broholm, for violations of training rules, and with the surveillance of still another first stringer, the Blue and White team stock took a slight drop preparatory to its clash with Central Junior High school of this city, tonight.

Last week the Caledonia boys emerged on the long end of the score from the game with Waldo, but the contest was much closer than the 9 to 1 score indicated, according to reports from Caledonia. And again, the Caledonia team tonight will be minus its captain, who played an important part in the fray last week.

Central Juniors will journey to Caledonia tonight, ready to meet any kind of opposition and bring home the bacon.

Caledonia girls will play the preliminary game tonight with the Alumni. The first game starts at 7:15 and the second contest is called at 8:15.

DELANEY TO FIGHT

Will Meet Jamaica Kid Tonight in 15 Round Decision Bout

Waterbury, Conn., Dec. 10.—Jack Delaney, world's light heavyweight champion, will make his first start under colors in some months tonight when he meets Jamaica Kid, veteran negro boxer, in a 15 round bout, to a decision. If the negro makes the limit of 175 pounds Delaney's title will be at stake.

According to word from the champion's camp, Jack had been unable to get below 170 pounds and must make heroic sacrifices if he is to save his weight forfeit of $2,500.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the doctor's cheerfulness when you come to him in a panic is justified. He knows there is nothing serious the matter.

NOISEMEN BEAT COLUMBUS
New York, Dec. 10.—The Noise-men were cruising about New York bay in the year 1691—191 years before Columbus, Charles S. (Colonel) former Michigan governor, said here. He claimed they also visited the Florida coast and the Great Lakes.

ENTER BURGLAR-EXTORTIONIST
Washington, Dec. 10.—Dr. Milton Francis had a young man patient lately addressed on his operating table when a burglar entered with drawn gun. The patient grabbed his clothes and dived through the door while the doctor was knocking the burglar down. The doctor was knocking the burglar down.

Behind the Screen

SINCE the much talked of Russian film, "Armored Cruiser Potemkin," has been showing in New York a storm of comment has arisen. Douglas Fairbanks, Emil Jennings and Max Reinhardt have called it "the greatest film ever made," while others, perhaps not so well versed in understanding and motion picture technique have termed it propaganda rubbish, historically inaccurate and inferior in photographic and lighting effects.

One enthusiast writing to a New York paper says: "All American critics were obliged to admit that the Soviet picture 'Potemkin' beat all Americans. The film will run a year longer, it will revolutionize the film industry and the times of Swanson, Pickford, Barrymore and Valentino will never come back. American producers are frightened and would like to kill the picture."

Another wonders "what is the purpose of such unbridled expense unless it be for propaganda?" Much of the lay criticism comes from a prejudiced or political standpoint. Those who view it from a wholly technical angle see a film that marks a distinct innovation in the motion picture field and worthy of attention on that score. They do not contend it will revolutionize the industry but they do believe "Potemkin" offers something which it well behooves the American producer to study.

A report is going the rounds of the film offices that Famous Players-Lasky are planning to close their eastern studio in New York, and confine all their activities to the west coast. Recently the most successful pictures have been made at the western studios and several of the eastern productions have been financial failures. Among the actors and directors whose work has been chiefly in the east are Thomas Meighan, D. W. Griffith, Richard Dix, Herbert Brenon and Malcolm St. Clair. Since Meighan's contract calls for him to work only in the east some terms will have to be made.

Counting on international distribution of the "King of Kings," the title of this Cecil De Mille Biblical production has been changed in 27 languages. Most pictures only have their titles photographed in six languages.

Harry Morey has been assigned the rights to re-film "The Coward" which made Charles Ray a star some ten years ago. It is expected that the new film will be made in the near future.

Alla Nazimova, talented foreign emotional star who has been seen on the screen infrequently of late, may retire from the films shortly to devote all of her time to a real estate enterprise. Her lovely Hollywood three acre estate has been transformed into the "Garden of Allah," and 25 villas have been erected. As landlady Nazimova expects to have little or no time to devote to the films in the future.

First National has purchased the rights to re-film "The Coward" which made Charles Ray a star some ten years ago. It is expected that the new film will be made in the near future.

PREPARE FOR "PEACHES" FANS

RESTING COMFORTABLY
Mrs. Faye Shaw, who sustained a broken right wrist when she fell on the ice at her home last Thursday, is reported to be resting comfortably.

Paying for the Home
"Up to the year ago my money all went to doctors and medicine for my stomach trouble. I was constantly filled with gas and no medicine helped me permanently until I tried a bottle of May's at that time with excellent results. Now I am using my money in paying for a home." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will relieve or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

LOGAN GAS CO. DENIES CHARGES OF SOLICITORS

Claims Early Hearing Plea Not Designed To Dodge New Commission

Columbus, O., Dec. 10.—Logan Gas Co. officials today denied State House rumors that its recent demand for an early and final hearing on application for increased rates was based on a desire to have the present Utilities Commission decide the matter rather than a new commission which might be more unfriendly.

Spokesmen for 21 Ohio municipalities protesting the increase, which is already being collected, had charged that the gas company was attempting to "railroad" its application through before any change in the personnel of the commission has been made.

It is known that Governor Donahy will make his appointments to the commission almost immediately after the legislature has convened on Jan. 3. The terms of two members have long since expired. The third member, Frank Mauler, is scheduled to leave office in February. Mauler and George T. Poor, whose term expired four years ago, but who was automatically held in office when the senate refused to confirm his successor, are republicans. Chairman

Marshall, whose term expired two years ago, is a democrat.

Pending Two Years
Logan Gas Co.'s application has been pending nearly two years. Numerous hearings have been held and others are still on the commission calendar.

Donahy, in his campaign for reelection for a third term, openly charged the Utilities Commission with unfairness in rate matters and alleged it to be the "toy" of corporations. Protesting cities seized upon this statement in charging the gas company with undue haste in demanding final hearing before the cities have completed gathering of their evidence.

The charge and denial reveals that it would be possible for another two years or more to elapse before a final decision is rendered.

Should the new senate confirm the governor's appointments to the commission and allow them to take office immediately, the new commissioners might decide to withhold a decision until all the evidence had been represented to the new commissioners.

At any rate, many months must elapse before the rate cases are finally decided if a new commission is named for the new body could not render an opinion until the evidence had been reviewed and as this covers thousands of pages an early decision would be impossible.

The gas company serves 72 cities and municipalities in the state, 21 of which are still fighting the increase. The others made separate deals with the company without the aid of the state commission.

In a letter written to City Solicitor Grant E. Mouser, Jr., of Marion, and two other solicitors who have been directing the fight against rate increases, Engineer Weiss says that all of the delay has been due to tactics of the gas company. He states that proceedings are now held up due to failure of the company to submit additional data as ordered by the State Commission.

The gas company charged municipal officials with obstructing the proceedings in a motion filed with the commission several days ago. The motion asked that the commission take steps to bring the contest to an early decision.

Money talks, but not as loud as lack of it.

MARION YOUTH NAMED RADIO BILL DIRECTOR
Harker F. Thomas, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Thomas, Honored in Detroit

Harker F. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Thomas, has been appointed program director of the new Detroit broadcasting station which is putting on its opening program tonight. The station is WDXL, which has been in process of construction since last summer, and is now ready to function. The wave length is not known locally. Thomas has been on the air from various stations in Detroit all through the summer and fall, playing with musical organizations in Detroit. He is a handy player who has a high reputation as a string tapper throughout this section.

The appointment of Thomas as program director was announced in a telegram to his parents here yesterday. It was hoped that more information would be received today so that local radio fans might tune in on this program to be given on the opening night of the new station.

hired, however, to club members, many of whom made reservations in advance. Mrs. D. V. Gallagher has made thorough preparations for the annual license distribution, several extra clerks having been employed. Today she again urged all autoists to call for their licenses as early as possible in order to prevent unnecessary rush and congestion during the last few days of the month.

It is sometimes rather amusing to observe an extremely romantic person and an extremely prosaic one carrying on an affair of the heart. To an audience it always makes a laughing hit on the stage.

One who has nothing to bestow gets very little flattery.

MEMPHIS BANK TELLER SOUGHT IN NIGHT CLUBS

Reward Offered for "Model Husband" Accused of $463,976 Shortage

New York, Dec. 10.—Courtney Glisson, "model husband," and bank teller of Memphis, Tenn., who is accused of a shortage of $463,976, was being sought in the night club district of New York today.

When Glisson left Memphis on Oct. 27 in a new auto, he didn't indicate he was coming to the night life of New York. On the contrary, he said he was going to "make good."

The Bank of Commerce and Trust Co. of Memphis where he had been employed, made public a letter from Glisson which said:

"I am now on an honorable road and will be back in a couple of years and pay off everything."

The bank, however, is not going to wait that long, hence the police activity in New York. A reward of $50,000 for information leading to his arrest has been offered by the American Surety Co.

Glisson is said to have been an active church worker, a model husband and a man who never drank or smoked. He is alleged to have taken the money for investment in the manufacture of an auto body finish. He has been employed in the bank since childhood. He left a wife and a child in Memphis.

Usually other people discover a case is verging on brain fog before it discovers itself.

ELECTRIC LIGHT WAS CIRCUIS NOVELTY ONCE

Electric light is no novelty today. The youngsters never heard of any other, and gaze with wonder at a chance-seen oil lamp.

But G. H. Robinson, the world's oldest living circus man, recalls the days when electric light was a feature of John Robinson's Big Show.
